

Rules for Power Point

Dr Swapnil Paralikar

Assistant Professor, Department of Physiology, Government Medical College, Bhavnagar.

Author for correspondence: Dr Swapnil Paralikar, Assistant Professor, Department of Physiology, Government Medical College, Bhavnagar. E – mail: drsparalikar@gmail.com

There are some rules,
You should know,
When you have to
Make a power point slideshow.

Simple language,
Sentences short ;
Diagrams to clarify the message,
And preferably only sans serif fonts.

Red is hot,
Green and blue are cool,
White is cheerful,
Use them depending on the story being told.

Light background with black,
Dark one with yellow or blue ;
It is most appropriate,
When the number of colours are only one or two.

Sparingly used animations,
Diagrams many :
To bring clarity,
To any presentation.

This is how it should go,
When you put on the power point slideshow;
Remember ! As a teacher you are the key,
The power point is only an accessory.

Swapnil Paralikar.

Conflict of interest: None
Funding: None
Cite this Article as: Paralikar S.Rules of Power Point Natl J Integr Res Med 2019; 10(1):58